

WHAT SPARKED THE GREAT CHANGE IN YOUR LIFE?

by Rabbi Chaim Flom

- 1) "My husband died when I was 83 and I didn't want to wither away." My great-aunt, who started volunteering in nurseries and old age homes.
- 2) "I heard on the radio about unwanted newborn babies, literally, thrown away." Debbie Farsi, who became an activist in saving them, and gave burials to those who died.
- 3) "When I realized that the little I knew about Judaism was only because of my zeidy(grandfather), I said 'Who will be my children's zeidy?' " Moshe Yess, who as an adult became very educated and actively observant.
- 4) "I was so jealous that I wasn't made the prince of the Kohat (Priestly) family." Korach, who as an elder person and until then righteous, led a rebellion against Moshe. (He and his 250 followers were miraculously killed.) See Bimidbar 16:1-35 with Rashi on 16:1 and Medrash Tanchuma.

Before you make a big move, (and small ones too) make sure it's good!!

Have a great Shabbos !!

Rabbi Chaim Flom
